

Arch BUNTAIN

BSc CA MBA

Arch is a Chartered Accountant with experience in the accounting profession in the UK and NZ. He has had over 20 years experience working in the Electricity industry including periods as a senior executive and as a director of Unison.

Arch has served one three year term as a Trustee during which the company, its profits, and the consumer dividend have grown substantially.

He is a firm believer that the Bay's interests will be best served by keeping control of Unison in the hands of its consumers. Relinquishing control has some very attractive short term benefits, but in the longer term the purchaser must recover both the purchase price and profits – a scenario that is not in the least attractive to the Bay.

Arch would apply his expertise and experience to ensure that the best possible deal is obtained for consumers from the present ownership structure.
